Ever since the establishment of our University it has been the practice of the Professors in no instance to give ^{notice} ~~any~~ from their Chairs of any private lectures that are delivered ^{in this city} upon subjects that are taught in this University. This delicate conduct is happily calculated to preserve harmony among ^{them} ~~us~~ within an or 12 days past, two notices of such lectures ~~as~~ have been placed upon my desk apparently with a view that I should read them to my Class. After my ^{delinquent} ~~refusal~~ to do so in the first instance, I have considered the repetition of it as an insult to myself and to my brother professors. Even where lectures are given upon branches of medicine not taught in this University, the professors are always addressed by a ^{polite} note from the lecturer with a request to make them ^{public}. It has never been While I bear a testimony against the rudeness and indelicacy with which we have both been treated, I beg to say: that
